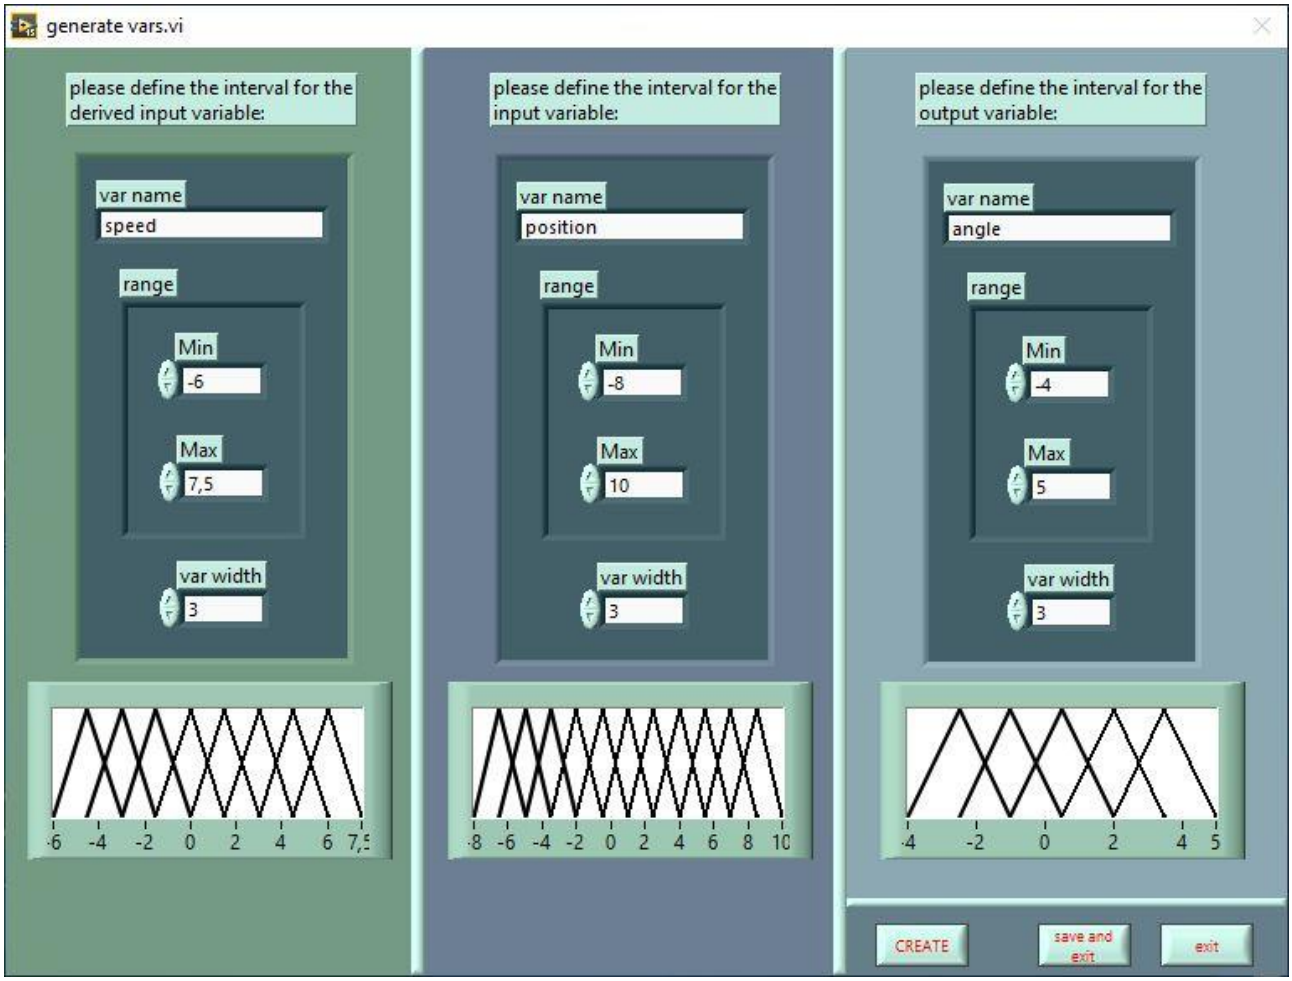
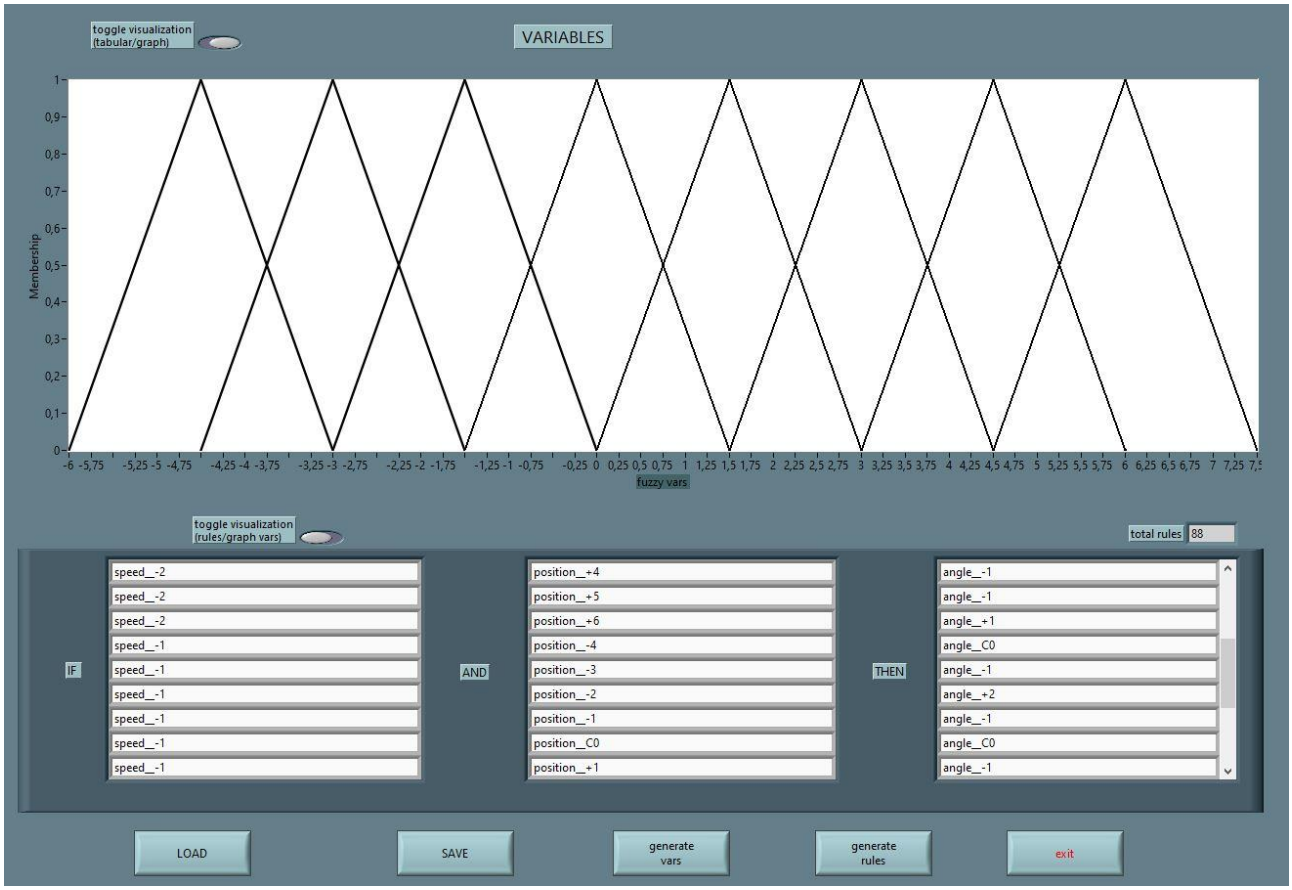
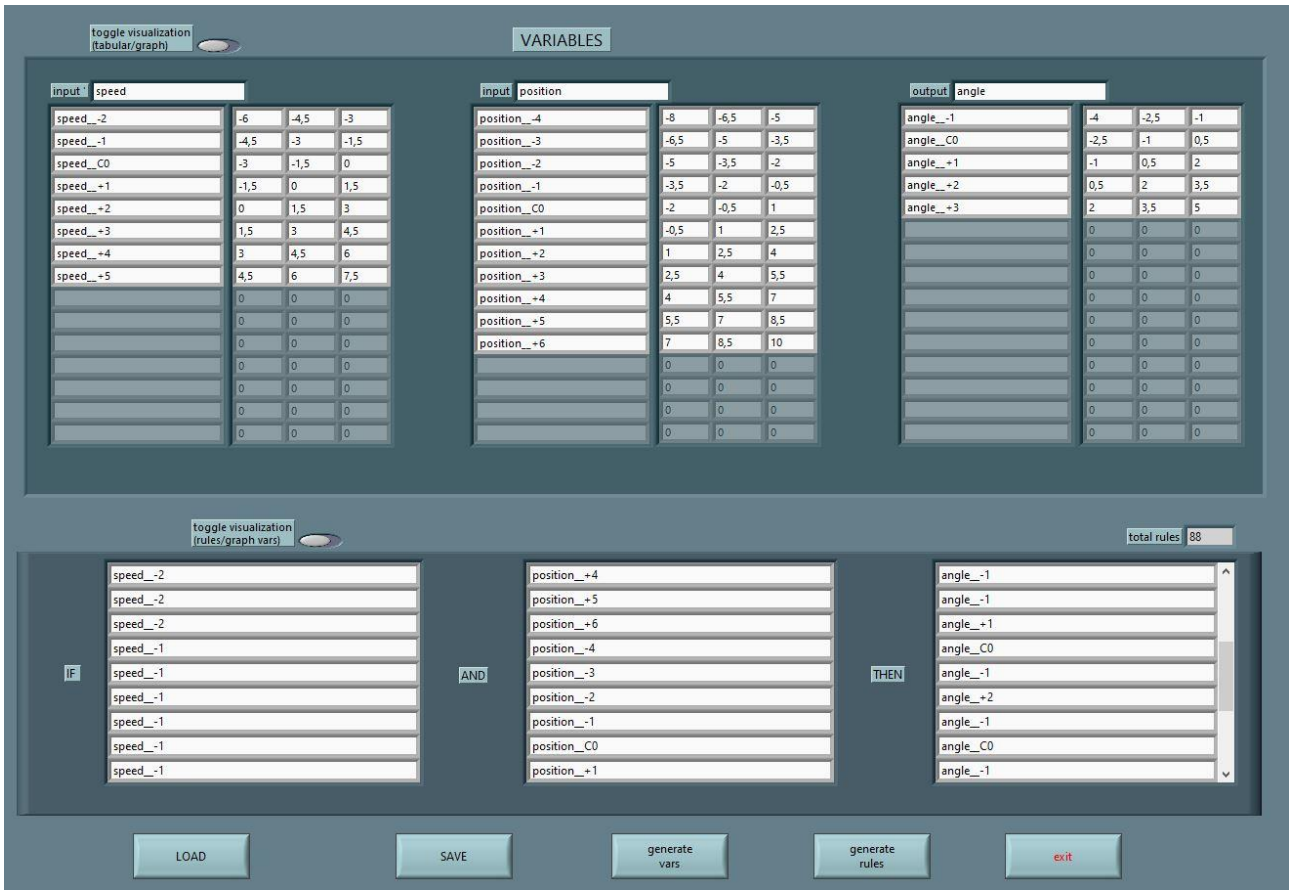
The fuzzy system can be programmed in a very simple way: first, you have to define your intervals:

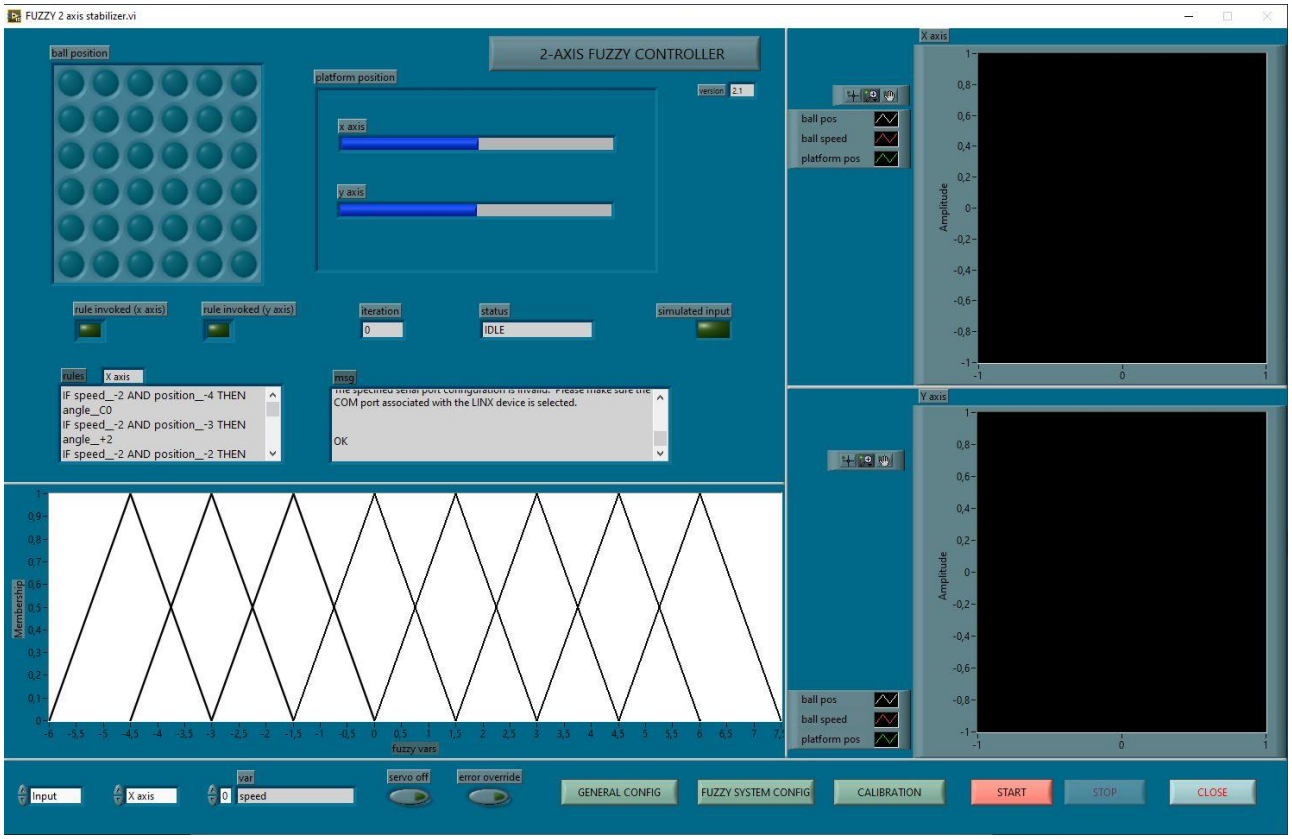


Doing so, the app can create the triangular fuzzy intervals and propose rules interface:



You can view the generated data in tabular mode:





Finally, vars and rules are sent to the main interface and the system is ready to be tested: